

Attain Wins Spot on $22B EAGLE II Contract

Management, Strategy, and Technology Consulting Firm Awarded Contract to Provide Software Development, IT Infrastructure and Maintenance Services to Support DHS Mission and Business Functions

VIENNA, VA – October 4, 2013 – Attain, LLC, a leading management, technology and strategy consulting firm, announced today that the Department of Homeland Security has selected the consultancy as a prime contractor on the Enterprise Acquisition Gateway for Leading Edge Solutions II (EAGLE II) multiple-award contract. This multi-year indefinite-delivery indefinite-quantity (IDIQ) contract has an estimated value of $22 billion over seven years.

EAGLE II serves as a vehicle for acquiring technology support services in three functional areas – service delivery, program support services, and independent test, validation, verification and evaluation.

As an EAGLE II contract holder, Attain will provide services under Functional Category One: Service Delivery, which includes a full range of services and products to support the development, implementation and maintenance of technology across the entire lifecycle of DHS programs. Services include system design, development, implementation and integration; software design and development; and operations and maintenance.

“It is a privilege to have this opportunity to serve the Department of Homeland Security and support its mission,” said Greg Baroni, Chairman and CEO of Attain. “We are ready and dedicated to delivering the market-leading results needed to help keep America safe.”

“This contract allows us to leverage our highly skilled experts and valued teammates, proven methodologies, and our transformative solutions to provide high-quality and cost-effective IT infrastructure, systems, software, operations and maintenance to enhance performance of DHS functions and achieve mission success,” said Baroni.

Attain team members include AAC, Inc.; CDI Corporation; Concurrent Technologies Corporation; and Morphotrak, Inc.
