

Todd R. Morris Joins Attain as Managing Director

New Federal Services Managing Director to lead Attain's National Security Practice

McLean, VA – May 3, 2016 – Attain, LLC, a leading management, technology and strategy consulting firm, today announced that Mr. Todd Morris has joined the firm's Federal Services division as Managing Director for National Security, effective April 4. In this role, Mr. Morris will be responsible for leading and growing Attain's business with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), and the state and local law enforcement components of the national security enterprise.

"As a seasoned leader in delivering mission-critical services and solutions that support our national security, including cyber security, counterterrorism, counterintelligence, and law enforcement, we look forward to the expertise Todd brings to the national security mission and to ensuring the protection of our nation's citizens and most vital assets," said Manish Agarwal, president of Attain's Federal Services division.

Mr. Morris is a career federal government and public sector leader, with more than 26 years of experience delivering support and IT services focused on counterterrorism, counterintelligence, and law enforcement to the U.S. Special Operations Command (USSOCOM), the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), DHS, DOJ, and U.S. state and local law enforcement organizations.

Prior to joining Attain, Mr. Morris served as Vice President and Business Area Director for Homeland Security at CSRA, Inc., where he was responsible for all aspects of program execution, business strategy and growth, and the personnel and financial management for CSRA's portfolio of national security work. He managed programs providing data center services, strategic and tactical cyber security services, mission support and enterprise resource applications development, IT infrastructure management, information sharing systems and intelligence analysis, technical collection systems, and explosive detection systems operations and engineering.

Todd joined CSRA through the merger of CSgov (formerly Computer Sciences Corporation) and SRA in 2015, and previously through SRA's 2004 acquisition of Orion Scientific Systems, where he served in various software engineering, technical management, and business management roles since 1990. From 1997 to 2001, Todd also served as the President of ScienceServer LLC, a joint venture between Orion Scientific Systems and Elsevier Science, the world's largest scientific publisher.

"Todd's incomparable leadership and experience serving the national security enterprise will be a tremendous asset as Attain continues to build its Homeland Security presence and beyond," said Greg

Baroni, chairman and CEO of Attain. "We are proud to have him as a representative of our firm's mission and values, and we welcome him to our growing team," said Baroni.

Mr. Morris has a Bachelor's of Engineering degree from Vanderbilt University. He is a board member of the Homeland Security and Defense Business Council (HSDBC) and is a Senior Fellow at The George Washington University Center for Cyber and Homeland Security.
